Hirsch. 4. 86
2

611 9. c. 6

The Ingenious Youth's COMPANION.

Furnished with variety of Copies of the Band in Fashion Adorned with curious Figures and Flourishes Invented & Performed A la Volee.

By John Seddon.

1.

Sold by John Stuart at the three Bibles and Ink Bottles at ye Corner of ye Square on London Bridge

TO

His Singular Good Friend
and Quondam Schollar:
M.r MATHO: READ.
Clerk of St. Giles's
in the FIELDS.

I Doubt not But this Small Pledge of his great Esteem both for your Parts & Person, with his gratefull acknowledgem.t of y.r Favo.rs will find that Candid Entertainim.t your Goodness hath ever afforded the Obliged Thather: who hath hitherto wanted Opportunity & there Room to Signalize how Heartily he is Yours.

John Seddon

2.

i u t l c c o a d d q q b v n m m v r r ſ s w x x h y z z &c.
A a b c d d d e e ſ ſ f f q g h h i k k l m n o p p q r r ſ s t u v m x y z &.
A B C D E F ff G H I J J K L L M M N N O P Q R R S T U V W W X Y Z
Seddon

A beautifull Countenance is a Silent Commendation
And a fair piece of Writing a Speaking Picture.

Beauty without Virtue is like a painted Sepulcher fair without but within full of corruption.

Seddon

Contentment is a Gem of the highest esteem, not purchased by Wealth, but acquir'd by Virtue.

---

Disdaine not thy Inferiour in ye Gifts of Fortune
if for he may be thy Super. in ye Gifts of ye Mind.

Seddon

Entertaine Honour with Humility, Poverty with Patience, your Blessings with thankfulnes and your Afflictions w^th^ Resignation.

Fame is the attendant of Virtue and Virtue is the Forerunner of Happiness here & Blessedness hereafter

Seddon

Get what you get honestly, use what you get frugaly and thats the way to Live comfortably & Dye honourably.

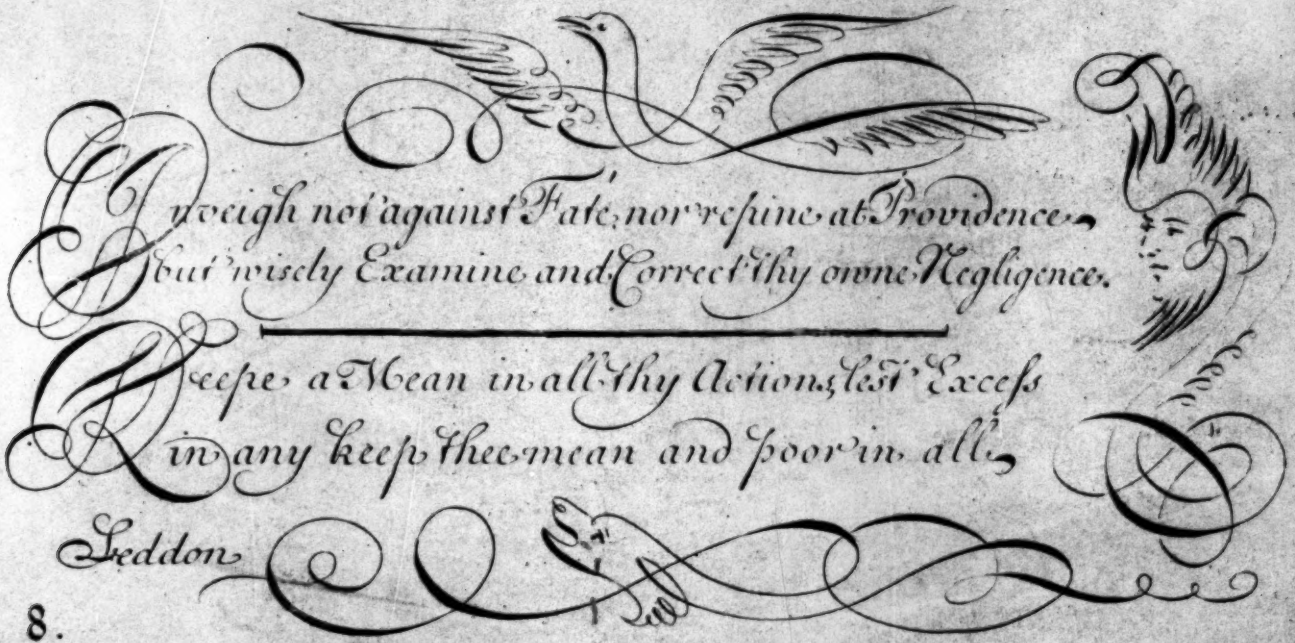
Humility is the forerunner of advancemt. & honour;
and Ambition the Harbinger of destruction & ruin.



Inveigh not against Fate, nor repine at Providence,
but wisely Examine and Correct thy owne Negligence.
Keepe a Mean in all thy Actions, lest Excess in any keep thee mean and poor in all.
Seddon

Let a good end be the beginning of all thy undertakings.
and such beginnings may reasonably expect a good End.

---

Many are the misfortunes of mans life which he must?
either prevent by wisdome or suffer with patience.
Seddon.

No man wise at all times, nor knowing in all things: wherefore we mistake in most things.

---

Omit no Opportunities of doing good & you will find no Opportunity for doing Ill.

Seddon,

10.

Praise nothing but what's worthy of commendation, So shall thy Judgement be approved & honestly applauded.

---

Quantity is not equivalent with Qualitie; for in Qualitie lyes either the Defect or Excellency.

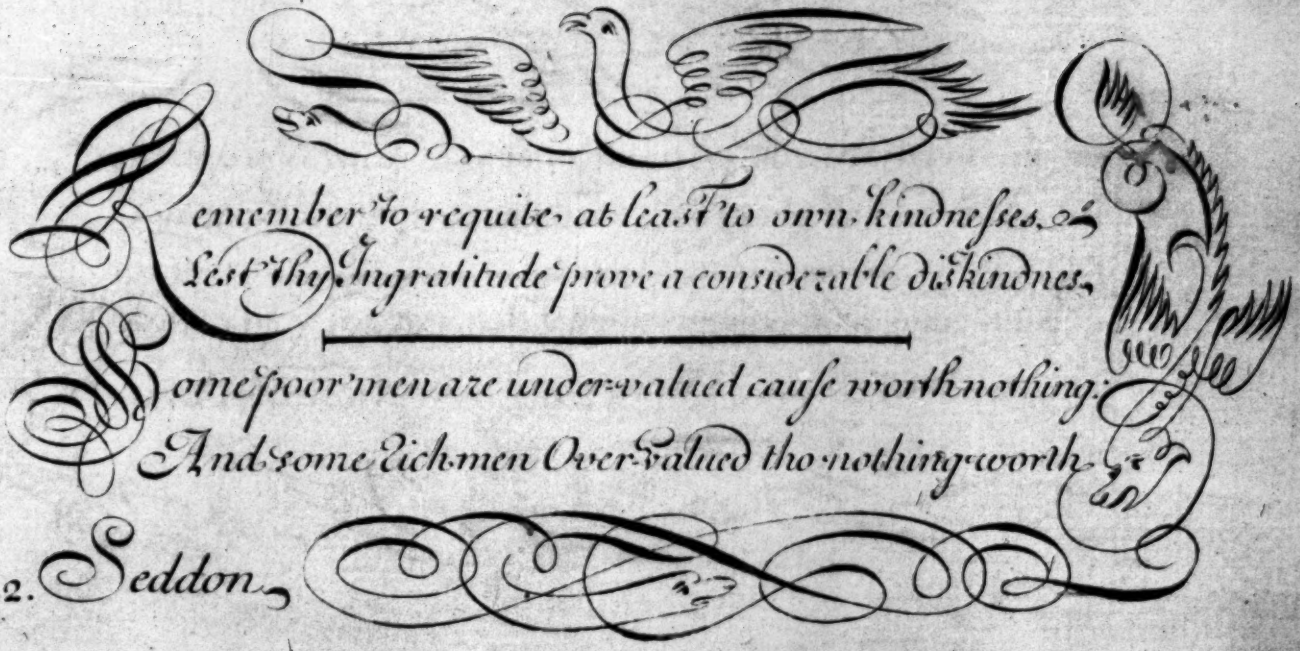
Seddon



Remember to requite at least to own kindnesses
Lest thy Ingratitude prove a considerable diskindness
Some poor men are under-valued cause worth nothing:
And some Richmen Over-valued tho nothing worth

12. Seddon

The Loss of Wealth may be regained, of Health recovered:
but the Loss of precious Time can never be recalled.

Vanity of Vanity said Solomon who was a wise man and in Time no doubt we shall become all Solomons.

Seddon

Would'st thou be Rich, be Diligent; Honourable, be Humble; Wise, be Good; Happy, be thou Content.

---

Xenophon and the rest of y^e^ Philosophers, esteemed Wisdom the greatest Wealth & Content y^e^ highest Bliss.

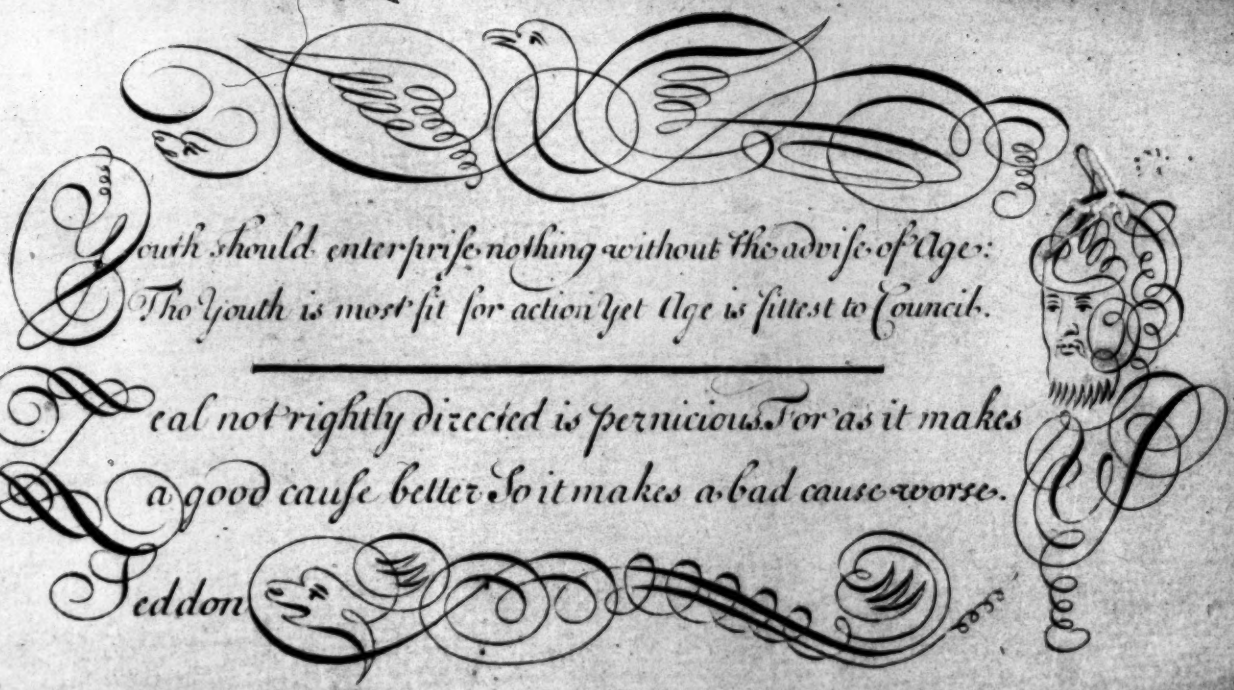
14. Seddon.



Youth should enterprise nothing without the advise of Age:
Tho Youth is most fit for action yet Age is fittest to Council.

Zeal not rightly directed is pernicious. For as it makes a good cause better. So it makes a bad cause worse.

Seddon